

28/12/11

Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

Dissemination Event- Report

Date: 27/12/11

Place: Weizman Institute, Feinberg Graduate School

Participants:

IDC: Eric Zimmerman, Rakefet Dar, Liat Marziano

Bezalel: Noa Appel

Ben Gurion University of the Negev: Moshe Amir, Hila Zahavi

Weizman Institute: Ami Shalit, Michal Shoval, Eti Colb-Uzana

Agenda:

1. Introduction: participants, institutions, ECTS CORINTHIAM Project
2. Introduction to ECTS and Bologna Process: Moshe Amir
3. Presentation on Bologna Process, ECTS, Learning Outcomes and Diploma Supplement: Hila Zahavi
4. Discussion:
  - ECTS CORINTHIAM Pilots in the different institutions.
  - Comparison to the Israeli system (in its different variation).
  - Ways of implementing the ECTS in Israeli institutions.
  - Obstacles and barriers, and the ways the overcome theses.
  - Ways to promote aspects of Bologna Process on the National level

Important notes taken through the discussion:

- Apparently, from this year and on, the Council of Higher Education Quality Assurance (a national process of quality assurance in Israeli institutions) includes an indicator of Learning Outcomes.

At the end of the event, Ami Shalit, Moshe Amir, and Hila Zahavi met for conclusions. The event was described as a success.

The Feinberg Graduate School has decided to implement the ECTS and Learning Outcomes in Weitzman institute (in all courses, starting Mathematics and Sciences Teaching)

Ami Shalit invited Moshe Amir and Hila Zahavi for further sessions with different departments. This invitation links with a new project of Ben-Gurion University of the Negev: Bologna Training Institute, under the Center for Studies European Policy and Society (CSEPS).